

THE NEWS.

The latest news from General Grant was up to yesterday morning at 7 o'clock. That dispatch states that on Wednesday afternoon an attack was ordered to be made by the 6th corps under Smith, which was done with spirit, and resulted in carrying the enemy's works on the right and also the first line in front. Several hundred prisoners were taken but no estimate was made of our own or the enemy's losses. Both armies seem to be making for Gaines' Hill. The decisive day cannot be put off much longer.

Our losses in Monday's fight according to the Herald's correspondent, were quite severe—over 200 killed; wounded and missing including several valuable officers. A number of rebel prisoners sent to Point Lookout have been ordered to be returned to Gen. Wildt by order of General Butler, for what purpose it is not known, but it looks very much as if there was to be some hanging done. Several of the rebels' negro soldiers had been shot by the rebels.

Gen. Foster has assumed command in the Department of the South lately commanded by Gen. Gilmore.

On Saturday last a great cavalry engagement occurred between our forces under Gen. Gregg and Wilson, and the rebels under General Fitz Hugh Lee and Wade Hampton, in which the rebels were splendidly thrashed.

The rebels have a pleasant theory of their own as to what Lee will do "when he gets Grant where he wants him." It runs after this fashion: They declare that the rebel works at Spotsylvania are still in possession of Lee's forces; that Lee holds formidable fortifications on both the North and South Anna; that he has no intention of receding from his line on the latter river; that he does not mean to fall back upon Richmond; and they assert finally, that Lee intends and is able to transfer the seat of war to the North. When he inveigles Grant far enough South, he will suddenly throw his entire army over to Stanton, and by forced marches up the Shenandoah Valley, compel Grant to fall back to protect Washington, while Lee pushes his whole force into Pennsylvania or Ohio. Of course when Grant "falls back on Washington" Richmond will be easily taken care of by the forces now within her limits.

This is a very pretty theory as it stands, and would undoubtedly work well for the rebels; if it were not for one thing; that is, the brave and invincible army under Lieutenant General Grant. When Lee can brush that aside, the balance of the rebel programme can easily be carried out.

ABSTINENCE FROM LUXURIES.—The N. Y. Tribune says the movement begun by ladies of that city, to abstain as far as possible from the use of foreign products, and to introduce economy generally in style of dress and living, is assuming a positive form in various parts of the country. The association in New York has opened rooms in Great Jones street, and ladies of high social standing, whose energy and zeal will be sure to accomplish their object, and whose example will be certain to be followed, have taken the work in hand. Its importance grows more manifest the more it is discussed, and the practical difficulties and objections which, at the outset, it seemed a little difficult to meet, are rapidly yielding before the earnest determination of women who recognize the duty of doing all in their power to aid the country in its hour of trial.

THE LITTLE ROCK UNION of the 20th says: We see going the rounds of Northern papers exaggerated statements concerning our losses in the late campaign. That they have been so very much exaggerated, and to the public that they should not be exaggerated. We speak authoritatively when we say that the wagon captured by the enemy were 308. Gen. Steele lost, also, six pound field pieces and two mountain howitzers. He recaptured three guns, leaving Kirby Smith & Co. three 6-pounders and two howitzers the advantage. He was compelled to destroy a good many wagons on account of the teams giving out—how many we have not learned.

THE HARTFORD COURANT says that Gen. McClellan, in conversation with a friend a few days since, expressed his opinion that Grant would use Lee's army and capture Richmond; and that after that was done, he should have but little trouble with rebel armies.

TEN FREDERICKSBURG HOSTAGES.—The sixty rebels, citizens of Fredericksburg, arrested by order of the War department, have been sent to Fort Delaware to be held as hostages for the wounded Union soldiers betrayed into the hands of the rebels by Mayor Slaughter.

The President has recently pardoned twenty-seven of the Minnesota Indians, who were concerned in the great massacre, and confined in the barracks at Rock Island.

A LIEUTENANT of the 10th C. S. Infantry recently met a sad rebuff at Fort Kenney. The Lieutenant was promulgating in full uniform one day, and approached a volunteer on sentry, who challenged him with, "halt! who comes there?" The Lieutenant, with contempt in every lineament of his face, expressed his feeling with an indignant "Ass!" The sentry's reply, apt and quick, came: "Advance, Ass, and give the countersign."

A PENNSYLVANIA dispatch tells us that Gen. Canby has been put in command of the Department of the Gulf, without limitation, and that Gen. Banks had been made Military Governor of Louisiana.

A Rogue Come to Justice.

Solomon Kohnstamm, a wealthy merchant, respectfully connected in this city, and known for ten years past to many of our principal merchants, was yesterday sentenced to serve ten years at hard labor in the State Prison at Sing Sing.

Kohnstamm had deliberately and ingeniously cheated the Government of many thousands of dollars. He used his knowledge of government business, his character and standing amongst honorable men, to perpetrate a series of frauds of the most outrageous character. He appears to have established an office for the procuring of forged documents, he not only committed forgery and perjury himself, but to use the words of the Court, "many names were forged, many false oaths taken; indeed, your offense involved in its perpetration, in almost every instance before us, the crimes of forgery, and the perjury of others, of the wages which you have been the recipient."

Kohnstamm has been tried upon only one of the indictments found against him. On that he has been sentenced to ten years imprisonment. The Court added that many other indictments remain against the convict for similar offenses. The fate of this person will act as a wholesome warning to others tempted to follow in his footsteps. Neither wealth, nor personal character, nor influential friends, could save Kohnstamm from punishment for his crimes deserved.—N. Y. Post.

Atlanta. The situation of Atlanta is elevated, and no doubt Johnston has fortified the position, since it commands, by its railroad connection, the whole interior of the State of Georgia. It is a flourishing town, laid out in 1844. It had, 1850, 2,572 inhabitants, and 1860, 9,445. Four of the principal railroads of the State form a junction here, and as the centre of the cotton and grain trade, it is also the centre of military operations in the Cotton States. Eastward it has the Georgia Railroad, extending to Augusta on the Savannah River; southward the Macon and Western Railroad leads to Macon, Milledgeville and Savannah; and southward the Lagrange Railroad goes to West Point, seventy-two miles distant, on the Alabama frontier. Atlanta is 101 miles north of Macon, and 171 miles west of Augusta. As Sherman was resting two days at Kingston with his army, to replenish his stores and send back to Chattanooga the wounded and disabled men, and rest his forces, of course Johnston would have the start of him in the march to Atlanta, and would have time to complete his dispositions for the defence of the place, but Sherman will be joined by Davis' division from Rome, and by reinforcements from Chattanooga and other places along the line.

WOOLEN FACTORY, Janesville, Wis.
The subscriber at the Factory known as the "STONE MILLS," on the Mousley River Power, has two sets of wide machinery in full operation, and is now putting in the third set, making it the Largest Mill in the Northwest, and about three times as large as the other Factories in the State.

Having a large establishment he is enabled to employ better workmen, do business to better advantage, and give more promptness, and offer to customers better inducements for their patronage than can be done at any other mill in the State.

Those who have used the cloth made at this mill, both by way of trial and for the past 15 years can bear witness to their superior quality. If other testimony were needed, the following from the dry goods article in the Chicago Tribune, of November 4th, 1863, might be added:

Below New York. By reference to our market reports it will be seen that our merchants are selling cotton goods lower than the New York market.

SHALL OUR STORES AND BUSINESS PLACES be closed at 8 o'clock P. M.—Messrs. Editors.—Permit us, clerks in this city, to say in a few words in favor of the above proposition; also to ask you to give it your endorsement, for all of which you shall have our best wishes and most sincere acknowledgments.

That all work and no play, not only makes Jack a dull boy, but destroys health and shortens life, is a truth so well established that no argument is needed to prove it. Scientific men all agree in this, and very successful efforts have been made through mechanical associations, and by legislative enactments, to lessen the number of hours that shall constitute a day's work; that is in many, not all, of the departments of labor.

In this city the mechanics and laborers have adopted ten hours for a day's work, and their employers submit to it with a good grace. Their day's labor closes at six o'clock P. M. Why should our clerks be compelled to work until nine?

Every person who has had experience knows that no labor is more exhausting than ours, and we are as much entitled to rest and recreation as any other class. This the most of our employers acknowledge, and are willing to close their places of business at eight o'clock, but somehow it is not done. Now the reason assigned is, "We can't close our doors and turn out customers while making purchases," which argument is fully appreciated, and therefore appeal to those customers to have mercy on us, and beg of them from this time forth to refrain from shopping after eight o'clock P. M., or, if they please, a little earlier.

We are human beings, dear customers, like other people, subject to the same laws, swayed by the same passions, and like a little rest and recreation just as well as you do, and we think are just as fairly entitled to it.

We appeal to the gentler sex. Just imagine dear ladies, after having stood at the washbasin, or the ironing board, from six or seven o'clock in the morning until eight in the evening, tired and anxious to hurry home to enjoy an hour with the loved ones there before retiring to rest, or, perhaps to meet a very dear friend of the opposite sex, how you would feel to have half a score or less of customers come rushing in and insist upon your continuing those delightful exercises for another hour or so, for the sole benefit and behoof of your employer. If you can fully realize this you can appreciate our feelings when you make your appearance after eight o'clock, and will know something of what we suffer daily, or rather nightly, and when we assure you that selling silks and sheetings, dealing out teas and sugar, handling hardware, fitting shoes and casting accounts, are equally as tiresome and exhausting as standing at the washbasin, the ironing table, or the sewing machine. We cannot doubt but your goodness of heart will prompt you to resolve not to ask us to do that which you yourselves would think it so very cruel to be compelled to perform.

Feeling it a special duty I owe to the Phoenix Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., I take great pleasure in expressing my thankfulness for the promptness and liberality they have exhibited in honoring adjusting and paying my claim, for loss sustained by the total destruction of my brick store building and stock of merchandise contained therein in Harrodsburg, Ky., a few days since, and upon which I had an insurance in the PHENIX.

I am to-day in receipt of the amount of my claim $9,500 sixty days before the same was due, according to the terms of the policy, which is satisfactory evidence in my mind that the PHENIX is the Company to do business with.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

Washington, June 2.—1 P. M.—May Gen. Dix: A dispatch from Grant's Headquarters, dated yesterday, June 1st, at 10 a. m., has been received by this department. It states that about 5 p. m. the day before, Sheridan pursued a force of cavalry at Cold Harbor, which proved to be Fitz Hugh Lee's division. He attacked it and after a hard fight routed it, together with Clingman's brigade of infantry, which came to Lee's support. Sheridan remained in possession of the place. He reported at dark that he had a considerable number of prisoners, and that there were many rebel dead and wounded on the field. He was ordered to hold the position, and at 10 p. m. the 6th corps set out to occupy it. We have not yet heard from Wright or Sheridan this morning, and do not know whether the former got his troops to their destination. Smith must be close upon Wright's column. This morning the enemy moved a heavy column in the same direction. The order has just gone to Warren to fall upon their flank. Wilson had a fight last evening near Hanover Court House, with Young's brigade of cavalry. He routed Young, killing and capturing many, but there has been a good deal of artillery firing in that direction this morning. Warren reported last night that in his fight of Tuesday p. m., near Bethesda Church, Col. Terrell, 13th Va., and Col. Willits commanding a Virginia brigade were killed. Col. Christian of the 49th Pa. was wounded and captured; so was the A. A. G. of Ramsey's brigade—name not reported. Ten other commissioned officers were captured, and 70 privates. Sixty rebels were buried on the field in our center. Burnside reports his advanced line as being within a mile and a half of Mechanicsville. No other military news has been received by this department since yesterday.

E. M. STANTON.

FROM GENERAL BUTLER.

Fort Monroe, June 1.—An order has been issued by Gen. Butler requesting that all rebel prisoners captured by Gen. Wildt in the recent engagements on the James river and forwarded by him to Fort Monroe and thence Point Lookout, shall be immediately returned to Gen. Wildt's Headquarters, for what purpose is not known. Information has been received that colored troops captured from Gen. Wildt's command have been shot by the rebels.

Bermuda Hundreds. June 1.—At 3 o'clock this A. M., a rebel iron clad came down the James river and attacked our monitors. The engagement continued for two hours with heavy cannonading. The rebel iron clad was then driven up the river. Further results were not known. When the steamer John A. Warren left this morning, cannonading continued till that time, but it was supposed to be mostly on land.

New York, June 3.—The Tribune's correspondent with Gen. Butler says, when orders were received to send reinforcements to Grant a Pontoon bridge had been laid across the Appomattox, and his men were to march that night to attack Petersburg in our front and in the defenses around Richmond on our side.

Information furnished by deserters and prisoners shows everything that can be spared, has been sent to Lee. There are about 15,000 troops located at Petersburg in our front and in the defenses around Richmond on our side.

FROM FLORIDA.

New York, June 2.—An expedition up Ashepoo river, Fla., by Gen. Birney, had been unsuccessful, owing to disobedience of orders by a pilot. The steamer Doston got aground and was riddled by a rebel battery. Several men killed and drowned and the boat burned to prevent its falling into the hands of the rebels. Some 100 horses belonging to the fourth Massachusetts cavalry were lost. The Doston formerly ran between Boston and Bangor. The troops on board were safely transferred and the expedition returned.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

Washington, June 2, 9:30 P. M.—May Gen. Dix: A dispatch from Gen. Grant, dated at Bethesda Church, at 7 a. m., has just been received. It states that yesterday afternoon an attack was ordered to be made by our left at Cold Harbor by the 6th corps, and the troops under Smith, Warren, Burnside and Hancock being held in readiness to advance in their respective fronts. The attack was made with spirit about 3 p. m., continuing till after dark, and resulting in our carrying the enemy's works on the right of the 6th corps, where we still held them, and also the first line in front of Smith. The latter, however, were commanded in the rear, which made those carried untenable. The enemy made repeated assaults on each of the corps not engaged in the main assault, but were repulsed with loss in every instance. Several hundred prisoners have been taken, but cannot say what number, nor estimate either our own, or the enemy's casualties. During the night the enemy made several assaults to regain what they had lost, but failed.

No dispatches from any other quarter have reached the Department to-day.

E. M. STANTON.

FROM NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Coscord, June 2.—Gov. Gilmore was inaugurated with quite an imposing display. Gov. Andrews and staff of Massachusetts were present.

The State debt, including 60,000 dollars paid to families of volunteers, amounts to 1,900,000 dollars, and recommends the funding of the debt by the use of 6 per cent. bonds payable in 15 or 20 years. The prosperity of the people is represented to be in a very happy state.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, June 2.—Special to Post: The reason why a 6 per cent. loan of 1881 has not been advertised by the Treasury Department, is that other plans have been urged upon Mr. Chase. One of these plans is to put a loan of new Government bonds on the market, interest payable in currency. A prominent member of Congress urges the Secretary to make the bonds payable in gold.

Senator Wilson stated yesterday, that the new tax bill will not net the Government over $20,000,000. The deficit must be provided for in some way.

FROM MEXICO.

New York, May 3.—The Tribune says a letter received from Pensacola states that information was brought to the Admiral on the 21st ult., that the rebel ram Tennessee was in Mobile bay, steaming at about the rate of nine miles per hour.

The Herald's Mexican correspondent says the Juarez Government has been perfect ly established at Monterey. The Liberals, numbering about 40,000, were preparing to march on Potosi. The French and Imperialists had been completely routed.

TRANSPORT SUNK.

New York, June 3.—The steam transport, City of Bath, which sailed from New York on the 1st, for Washington returned last evening with her bows stove in and stern carried away, having collided off Cape May with the steam transport Pachulotta, Capt. Baxter from New Orleans bound for New York. The Pachulotta sunk carrying down 40 of her crew and passengers, including Capt. Baxter. She had on board 101 souls, among them was a number of sick soldiers returning on furloughs.

THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

New York, June 3.—The Herald's 6th corps correspondent says of the battle of Monday: At 6 p. m. the enemy assaulted our line. It was a general and sudden attack. They advanced in two lines of battle and a heavy skirmish line, simultaneous with their opening volley of musketry, cannon, solid shot and shell from the angry mouths of a score or more of cannon. Firm and unshaken stood our men. The rebels shot too high. Our men coolly waited to return the fire. It was a most murderous volley. The assaulting column of the enemy staggered and fell back. Our artillery, which had been in position, opened in response to the enemy's cannon. Assault after assault was made by the desperate foe, but each time our troops hurled him back. Upon Gen

STATE NEWS.

The Wisconsin of Thursday says, Gov. J. T. Lewis was in the city yesterday and today, perfecting a consolidation of two of the 100 day regiments, and attending to other duties connected with those regiments. The Juneau Co. Argus states that crops are said to be looking exceedingly well throughout that county, and the weather continues very favorable. There has been a sufficiency of rain, and warm days and nights have given to the crops a healthy appearance and forward condition. The Beaver Dam Argus says the Baptist society of that place have greatly improved the appearance of their house of worship, by enclosing it with a neat picket fence, and by building new sidewalks to the doors. It also states that John Malone will make a half million of brick this season. The Sparta Democrat says, from 50 to 100 barrels of dressed pigeons are shipped from that place every week to New York. They are packed in 100, twenty-four dozen in a barrel, and are said to be worth $2 per dozen. J. H. Brinkerhoff, editor of the Waupun Times, has enlisted in the hundred day service. Z. C. Lindsay, Esq., of Watertown, has been commissioned State Agent to visit the soldiers in the field, and see to their welfare. The Jefferson Banner says: A young man named James Henry Hildebrandt was killed on Monday near the depot in this place by being run over by the cars. He was trying to climb up the ladder used by brakemen, on the side of one of the freight cars. The cars were under motion, and losing his foothold he was drawn under the cars, and a number of them passed over his body, severing his right leg with a part of his hip from his body, and also taking off his right arm. The accident was the result of his own carelessness, and it is supposed that he was under the influence of liquor at the time. We learn that his parents reside in Lockport New York. A paragraph in the Sauk City Pioneer (German) states Gen. Carl Schurz has resigned, and is about to return to his home at Watertown in this state. We have seen nothing of the kind mentioned in our exchanges in the English language. The Sparta Herald says, we have heard it frequently remarked by farmers from the rural districts, that the prospects for a most bountiful crop of both winter and spring wheat has never been more promising than at present. While the quantity in the ground is unusually large. Some fears are entertained that the crop of grass will be light this season owing the lack of rains. The Herald also urges upon the people of Sparta the necessity of organizing a lodge of Good Templars in that village, and feels confident, from past experience, that they would find it one of the most useful and interesting associations to which they could belong, and which would save many young men from habits which are fast leading them into the pathway of ruin to health, happiness and respectability. The same sort of an organization would do great good in Janesville.

The French Minister of State, in a recent debate in the Legislative Chambers, declared that the Government, ten days ago, had given orders not to allow certain ships, which were suspected of being built in French ports for the Rebel service, to leave France till their destination was clearly established. At the same time the Minister gave his reasons for believing that the American Government would not interfere in the settlement of the Mexican question. He thought that the establishment of a monarchy in Mexico would prove of great advantage to the United States.

A Washington letter writer says "the War Department has decided that men of distinction in the 100 day regiments shall be allowed by the Board of Enrollment in the district in which they are drafted, a reasonable time—say ten days—after the expiration of their term of service, to procure substitutes or pay commutation. Should they enter the service in person they will be credited with the time they have already served."

Who are the "men of distinction" in the 100 day service, and who is to be the judge? On the night of the 25th of May the Tioga County Bank of Pennsylvania was robbed of $20,725 $3 in United States bonds, gold, greenbacks and retired currency of the bank. Payment of the bonds is stopped. Five thousand dollars of the amount is in special deposits of 5-20 bonds and over $3,000 in gold. A reward of $3,000 is offered for the recovery of the property, and $2,000 for the detection of the burglars.

It appears that Gen. J. E. B. Stuart was shot by a private of the Fifth Michigan cavalry named Dunn. The bullet entered the right side of the rebel officer and came out at the left. As the General fell, Dunn exclaimed, "Colonel, there is a splendid eagle for you." It was not suspected who the general was.

Just before his death, Hon. J. R. Giddings had completed a "History of the Authors and Causes of the Rebellion," on which he had been engaged for four or five years past. A New York house will publish the work soon.

The news from the Mississippi River is that the rebels are again getting quite bold and are firing upon many steamers passing up and down the river. Admiral Porter will soon attend to them.

The ship-owners of Liverpool have memorialized the English Government that measures may be taken to prevent the fitting out of vessels of war for a belligerent Power in neutral ports.

Max. Gen. BULL has been mustered out of the volunteer service, having refused take a command under Gen. Canby.

The Montreal Gazette of Saturday gives the following account of the sudden death of Mr. Giddings, already noticed in our columns: "He died in the billiard room of the St. Lawrence Hotel, last night at a quarter to ten o'clock. He had played one game of billiards, and was playing another, in good spirits, at the moment he was stricken down by a disease (an affection of the nerves, operating on the heart), we believe, to which he had long been subject. A bystander reports to us that in the midst of his game he sat down and leaned forward, apparently in an insensible state. The by-standers raised him and carried him to a sofa at the side of the room, and thinking that he labored under a fit of some kind, they applied water plentifully to his face—in fact doused his face with it. They again raised him up, and for a moment he seemed to rally and recover his consciousness, but soon fell forward again, insensible, and expired, in about eight minutes from the time of the first attack. His medical attendant (Dr. Sutherland), we understand, was immediately sent for, but Mr. Giddings had ceased to live before he arrived."

A California correspondent of the Milwaukee News speaks thus of an old Wisconsin politician: "Beriah Brown and his Democratic Predecessors are just around the corner from the office of the Pacific Monthly. 'Beriah' can be found at any time of the day, bending over his pen, smoking a long pipe filled with 'Rin-Rin-Rin-Rin' tobacco, and his face wearing a composed look of perfect health and good nature. He bears the general wear and tear of life with much good nature, and seems to be very conscientious in his earnest labors to expand the true Democratic faith to California minors, and general unbelievers, generally."

It was reported that soon after the beginning of the war, the rebels filled a steamboat boiler with a ton of powder, and sunk it in the channel opposite Fort Moultrie, Charleston Harbor. The arrangement was to explode it with a wire attached to the shore. Last autumn, while the Wechsungen was aground, and was receiving such a terrible fire from the Sullivan Island batteries, the ironside vessel to her assistance, and was anchored just over this slumbering volcano for two hours; but as if Providence especially interposed, the rebels could not explode it. Their machinery either refused to work or it worked to no purpose.

Military. THE NEW HUNDRED DAY REGIMENT—ITS CONSOLIDATION.—We learn from Gov. Lewis, who was in the city to-day, that he has consolidated Col. Billingshurst's fragment of a regiment with the 39th, Col. Buttrick, at Camp Washburn, near this city, which makes the latter full to the maximum. The arrangement was amicably effected, by Col. Billingshurst withdrawing his claims for a regiment; and by Major Throp resigning from the 39th, and Lt. Col. Ginty (of Billingshurst's regiment) taking Throp's place in the 39th as Major. Further than the Colonelcy and Lt. Colonelcy of Billingshurst's regiment, no commission for field officers had been issued to that regiment. The 39th will be sent away, without fail, either this week or on Monday next, at the farthest. They are uniformed, and the arms and accoutrements generally, are ready for them.

It is possible, also, that Col. Ray's regiment, the 40th, at Madison, will likewise be sent away between now and next Monday. The regiment is full and all the arms and accoutrements are ready for them. Col. Goodwin's regiment, the 41st, will undoubtedly be filled up by the close of this week, and will be sent away as soon hereafter as possible.

The Governor feels the importance of hurrying the one hundred day men forward with dispatch, so as to relieve posts and garrisons, and thereby reinforce the armies in the field. In the hope of filling up the regiments which have been consolidated has rendered necessary the delay that has existed up to the present time. This new arrangement gives him three full regiments which will be sent forward without a moment's further delay, than is absolutely unavoidable.—Wisconsin, 2nd inst.

Corn Fodder.—S. Ryder, of Ohio, writes in the Rural New Yorker, strongly recommending sowing corn as fodder, and pointing out the same course of culture that we have recommended for many years past, viz: Fallowing out, sowing the seed in the furrow, and covering with a harrow, but he sows only a bushel and a half of seed per acre, which is only about one half the quantity we have generally recommended for such drills. It is true that when thinly seeded the corn will be taller, and would be pronounced by a superficial observer as a heavier crop than from thick seeding. But on weighing, the latter will not only be found the heaviest, but will be finer and softer, and readily eaten by cattle. We have weighed a crop sown at the rate of a bushel and a half per acre, or at the rate of twenty grains per foot in the furrow, and compared it, by weighing, with another crop, with three bushels of seed per acre, or forty grains to the foot. The latter was found to yield a crop one-third more in weight than the former, and will not apply to sowing for fodder, it will not bear growing so thick, the larger stalks outgrowing and entirely smothering down the small ones.—Country Gentleman.

A WOUNDED MAN DESIRES OF WHIPPING A SECESSIONIST.—On Tuesday night, our four Veterans Reserve soldiers were carrying a wounded soldier on a stretcher from the boat to the hospital in Washington. One of the wounds being of such a nature that it was deemed necessary to carry him in that manner—an individual of such proclivities gave pretty free vent to his sentiments, addressing his language to the soldier. The wounded man, who it was thought was dying, aroused by the fellow's taunts, to the surprise of his supporters, drew the blanket (with which he was covered) from his face and said: "Let me down, boys, and give that Copperhead a thrashing!" which remark the man heard, and he immediately skedaddled, the Reserves at the same time showing a disposition to follow up the suggestion.

NATIVE WINES.—Sacred History abounds in allusions to wine, and as there are thirteen distinct Hebrew terms used in the Bible to distinguish varieties of different kinds, condition and ages, it is evident that the "ancient people" were no less particular in the matter of "brands" than are the people of the present day. The Greek and Romans had two hundred varieties, of which the "Falernian" was the choicest; and the products of particular vineyards were as highly esteemed in Athens and Rome, as the Oporto and Metternich wines now are in London and Paris. The wines of antiquity were often villainously adulterated. The art of "doctoring" the juice of the grape is so far from being a modern invention that it dates back to the siege of Troy. Helen, the fair and frail, is said to have learned the trick in Egypt; and to have practised it for the sake of increasing the exhilarating properties of the wine she gave to the defenders of the city after a hard battle with the Greeks.

The safest and best of all exhilarants is good wine. Many physicians and matrons suppose we must have foreign wine. There is one hundred times the quantity of wines exported from France, Spain and Germany, than can be manufactured there from the quantity of grapes. There is but one safeguard, and that is to use our pure native wines. Imported wines now pay a heavy duty, and a bottle of real Port or Sherry can only be obtained at a high price. There is no duty or tax on native wines—therefore, in the name of purity and economy, let us have our own native wines.

Messrs. Bennett, Pieters & Co., of Chicago, always have an assorted stock of fine imported wines in U. S. bonded warehouses, from the most reliable houses of France, Spain and Germany, also brandies, gins, rums, &c., and have for the past three years been making extensive preparations for the manufacture of home-made wines. They have the most extensive arrangements with fruit growers, and in the proper season they grow strawberries, cherries, peaches, blackberries, raspberries, &c., &c., to an enormous amount. Their strawberry, cherry, blackberry, raspberry and muscat wines far excel many of the imported wines, both in purity and exhilarating effects. Many of these home-made wines are being largely adulterated, and many a bottle of cherry wine is sold, which never had a drop of cherry juice in it. Buy none but those with the unmistakable label of Bennett, Pieters & Co. These gentlemen are men of high respectability, and guarantee every article from their house, pure and unadulterated.

STATE NEWS.

The Wisconsin of Thursday says Gov. J. T. Lewis was in the city yesterday, and to-day, perfecting a consolidation of two of the 100 day regiments, and attending to other duties connected with these regiments. The Juneau Co. Argus states that crops are said to be looking exceedingly well throughout that county, and the weather continues very favorable. There has been a sufficiency of rain, and warm days and nights have given to the crops a healthy appearance and forward condition. The Beaver Dam Argus says the Baptist society of that place have greatly improved the appearance of their house of worship, by enclosing it with a neat picket fence, and by building new sidewalks to the doors. It also states that John Malone will make a half million of brick this season. The Sparta Democrat says from 50 to 100 barrels of dressed pigeons are shipped from that place every week to New York. They are packed in 100, twenty-four dozen in a barrel, and are said to be worth $2 per dozen. J. H. Brinkerhoff, editor of the Waupun Times, has enlisted in the hundred day service. Z. C. Lindsay, Esq., of Waterville has been commissioned State Agent to visit our soldiers in the field, and see to their welfare. The Jefferson Banner says: "A young man named James Henry Hilbrandt was killed on Monday near the depot in this place by being run over by the cars. He was trying to climb up the ladder used by brakemen on the side of one of the freight cars. The cars were under motion, and losing his foothold he was drawn under the cars, and a number of them passed over his body, scattering his right leg with a pair of his hip from his body, and also taking off his right arm. The accident was the result of his own carelessness, and it is supposed that he was under the influence of liquor at the time. We learn that his parents reside in Lockport New York. A paragraph in the Sauk City Power (German) states Gen. Carl Schurz has resigned and is about to return to his home at Watertown in this state. We have seen nothing of the kind mentioned in our exchanges in the English language. The Sparta Herald says we have heard frequently remarked by farmers from the rural districts, that the prospects for a most bountiful crop of both winter and spring wheat has never been more promising than at present. While the quantity in the ground is unusually large. Some fears are entertained that the crop of grass will be light this season owing the lack of rains. The Herald also urges upon the people of Sparta the necessity of organizing a lodge of Good Templars in that village, and feels confident, from past experience, that they would find it one of the most useful and interesting associations to which they could belong, and which would save many young men from habits which are fast leading them into the pathway of ruin to health, happiness and respectability. The same sort of an organization would do great good in Janville.

The French Minister of State, in a recent debate in the Legislative Chambers, declared that the Government, ten days ago, had given orders not to allow certain ships, which were suspected of being built in French ports for the rebel service, to leave France all their destination was clearly established. At the same time the Minister gave his reasons for believing that the American Government would not interfere in the settlement of the Mexican question. He thought that the establishment of a monarchy in Mexico would prove of great advantage to the United States.

A Washington letter writer says "the War Department has decided that men of distinction in the 100 day regiments shall be allowed by the Board of Enrollment in the district in which they are drafted, a reasonable time—say ten days—after the expiration of their term of service, to procure substitutes or pay commutation. Should they enter the service in person they will be credited with the time they have already served."

Who are the "men of distinction" in the 100 day service, and who is to be the judge?

On the night of the 25th of May the Tioga County Bank of Pennsylvania was robbed of $20,725 $3 in United States bonds, gold, greenbacks and retired currency of the bank. Payment of the bonds is stopped. Five thousand dollars of the amount is in special deposits, of 5-20 bonds, and over $3,000 in gold. A reward of $3,000 is offered for the recovery of the property, and $2,000 for the detection of the burglars.

It appears that Gen. J. E. B. Stuart was shot by a private of the Fifth Michigan cavalry named Dunn. The bullet entered the right side of the rebel officer and came out at the left. As the General fell, Dunn exclaimed, "Colonel, there is a spread eagle for you." It was not suspected who the general was.

Just before his death, Hon. J. R. Giddings had completed a "History of the Authors and Causes of the Rebellion," on which he had been engaged for four or five years past. A New York house will publish the work soon.

The news from the Mississippi River is that the rebels are again getting quite bold and are firing upon many steamers passing up and down the river. Admiral Porter will soon attend to them.

The Ship-owners of Liverpool have memorialized the English Government that measures may be taken to prevent the fitting out of vessels of war for a belligerent Power in neutral ports.

Maj. Gen. Buxell has been mustered out of the volunteer service, having refused take a command under Gen. Canby.

The Montreal Gazette of Saturday gives the following account of the sudden death of Mr. Giddings, already noticed in our columns: "He died in the billiard room of the St. Lawrence Hotel, last night at a quarter to ten o'clock. He had played one game of billiards, and was playing another, in good spirits, at the moment he was stricken down by a disease (an affection of the nerves, operating on the heart, we believe, to which he had long been subject). A bystander reports to us that in the midst of his game he sat down and leaned forward, apparently in an insensible state. The by-standers raised him and carried him to a sofa at the side of the room, and thinking that he labored under a fit of some kind, they applied water plentifully to his face, in fact, doused his face with it. They again raised him up, and for a moment he seemed to rally, and recover his consciousness, but soon fell forward again, insensible, and expired, in about eight minutes from the time of the first attack. His medical attendant (Dr. Sutherland), we understand, was immediately sent for, but Mr. Giddings had ceased to live before he arrived."

A California correspondent of the Milwaukee News speaks thus of an old Wisconsin politician: "Beriah Brown and his Democratic Press are just around the corner from the office of the Pacific Monthly. 'Beriah' can be found at any time of the day, leaning over his pen, smoking a long pipe filled with 'Rin-rin-Rin-rin' tobacco, and his face wearing a composed look of perfect health and good nature. He bears the general wear and tear of life with much good nature, and seems to be very conscientious in his earnest labors to expand the true Democratic faith to California miners, and general unbelievers generally."

It was reported that soon after the beginning of the war, the rebels filled a steamboat boiler with a ton of powder, and sunk it in the channel opposite Fort Moultrie, Charleston Harbor. The arrangement was to explode it with a wire attached to the shore. Last autumn, while the Webster was aground, and was receiving such a terrible fire from the Sullivan Island batteries, the iron sides went to her assistance, and was anchored just over this slumbering volcano for two hours; but as if Providence especially interposed, the rebels could not explode it. Their machinery either refused to work or it worked to no purpose.

Military.

THE NEW HUNDRED DAY REGIMENT—ITS CONSOLIDATION. We learn from Gov. Lewis, who was in the city to-day, that he has consolidated Col. Billingshurst's fragment of a regiment with the 39th, Col. Cuttrick, at Camp Washburn, near this city, which makes the latter full to the maximum. The arrangement was amicably effected, by Col. Billingshurst withdrawing his claims for a regiment, and by Major Throop resigning from the 39th, and Lt. Col. Ginty (of Billingshurst's regiment) taking Throop's place in the 39th as Major. Further than that, the Colonelcy and Lt. Colonelcy of Billingshurst's regiment, no commissions for field officers had been issued to that regiment. The 39th will be sent away, without fail, either this week or on Monday next, at the farthest. They are uniformed, and the arms and accoutrements generally, are ready for them.

It is possible, also, that Col. Ray's regiment, the 40th, at Madison, will likewise be sent away between now and next Monday. The regiment is full and all the arms and accoutrements are ready for them.

Col. Goodwin's regiment, the 41st, will undoubtedly be filled up by the close of this week, and will be sent away as soon hereafter as possible.

The Governor feels the importance of hurrying the one hundred day men forward with dispatch, so as to relieve posts and garrisons, and thereby reinforce the armies in the field; but the hope of filling up the regiments which have been consolidated has rendered necessary the delay that has existed up to the present time. This new arrangement gives him three full regiments which will be sent forward without a moment's further delay, that is, absolutely unavoidable. Wisconsin, 2nd inst.

CORN FODDER.—S. Ryder, of Ohio, writes in the Rural New Yorker, strongly recommending sowing corn as fodder, and pointing out the same course of culture that we have recommended for many years past, viz: Furrowing out, sowing the seed in the furrow, and covering with a harrow; but he sows only a bushel and a half of seed per acre, which is only about one half the quantity we have generally recommended for such drills. It is true that when thinly seeded the corn will be taller, and would be pronounced by a superficial observer as a heavier crop than from thick seeding. But on weighing, the latter will not only be found the heaviest, but will be finer and softer, and readily eaten by cattle. We have weighed a crop sown at the rate of a bushel and a half per acre, or at the rate of twenty grains per foot, in the furrow, and compared it by weighing, with another crop, with three bushels of seed per acre, or forty grains to the foot. The latter was found to yield a crop one-third more in weight. This rule, however, will not apply to Sorghum for fodder, as it will not bear growing so thick, the larger stalks outgrowing and entirely smothering down the small ones.—Country Gentleman.

A WORKMAN DESIROUS OF WHIPPING A SUCCESSFUL NIGHT. On Tuesday night, four Veterans Reserve soldiers were carrying a wounded soldier on a stretcher from the boat to the hospital in Washington—his wounds being of such a nature that it was deemed necessary to carry him in that manner—an individual of seecish proclivities gave pretty free vent to his sentiments, addressing his language to the soldier. The wounded man, who it was thought was dying, aroused by the fellow's taunts, to the surprise of his supporters, drew the blanket (with which he was covered) from his face and said: "Let me down, boys, and give that Copperhead a thrashing!" which remark the man heard, and he immediately skeddaddled, the Reserves at the same time showing a disposition to follow up the suggestion.

NATIVE WINES.—Sacred History abounds in allusions to wine, and as there are thirteen distinct Hebrew terms used in the Bible to distinguish vintages of different kinds, condition and ages, it is evident that the "ancient people" were no less particular in the matter of "brands" than are the people of the present day. The Greek and Roman had two hundred varieties, of which the "Palernian" was the choicest; and the products of particular vineyards were as highly esteemed in Athens and Rome, as the Claret and Metemich wines now are in London and Paris. The wines of antiquity were often villainously adulterated. The art of "doctoring" the juice of the grape is so far from being a modern invention that it dates back to the siege of Troy. Helen, the fair and frail, is said to have learned the trick in Egypt, and to have practised it for the sake of increasing the exhilarating properties of the wine she gave to the defenders of the city after a hard battle with the Greeks.

The safest and best of all exhilarants is good wine. Many physicians and matrons suppose we must have foreign wine. There is one hundred times the quantity of wines exported from France, Spain and Germany, than can be manufactured there from the quantity of grapes. There is but one safeguard; and that is to use our pure native wines. Imported wines now pay a heavy duty, and a bottle of real Port or Sherry can only be obtained at a high price. There is no duty or tax on native wines, and therefore, in the name of purity and economy, let us have our own native wines.

Messrs. Bennett, Pieters & Co., of Chicago, always have an assorted stock of fine imported wines in U. S. bonded warehouses, from the most reliable houses of France, Spain and Germany, also brandies, gins, rums, &c., and have for the past three years been making extensive preparations for the manufacture of home-made wines. They have the most extensive arrangements with fruit growers, and in the proper season they gather strawberries, cherries, peaches, blackberries, raspberries, &c., to an enormous amount. Their strawberry, cherry, blackberry, raspberry and muscat wines far excel many of the imported wines, both in purity and exhilarating effects. Many of these home-made wines are being largely adulterated, and many a bottle of cherry wine is sold, which never had a drop of cherry juice in it. Buy none but those with the unmistakable label of Bennett, Pieters & Co. These gentlemen are men of high respectability, and guarantee every article from their house, pure and unadulterated.
